Rolous Group Temples: The Rolous Group, located about 15 kilometers east of Siem Reap, consists of some of the earliest temples of the Khmer Empire, including Bakong, Lolei, and Preah Ko. Built in the 9th century, these temples showcase early Khmer architecture and provide insight into the origins of the Angkor civilization.

Beng Mealea Temple: Beng Mealea, situated approximately 66 kilometers east of Siem Reap, is a sprawling temple complex largely overgrown by jungle. Built in the early 12th century, it features intricate carvings and a unique, atmospheric setting that offers a glimpse into the grandeur of the Angkor period while still retaining a sense of mystery.

Kompong Khleang Fishing Community: Kompong Khleang is a vibrant fishing community located on the shores of Tonle Sap Lake, about 55 kilometers from Siem Reap. Known for its stilted houses and traditional fishing practices, this community offers visitors a unique opportunity to experience local culture and the stunning natural beauty of the lake, especially during the wet season when the water levels rise dramatically.
